

Remarks

The Specification has been amended, as shown above, to conform the Summary of the Invention to the independent claims as finally allowed and, therefore, could not have been submitted earlier. The amendments contain no new matter and do not require any additional search or examination

For at least the above reasons, the applicants respectfully request that the amendments to the Specification be entered.

If there are any issues remaining that can be resolved by telephone, the examiner is invited to call the undersigned.

Respectfully submitted,
